

Introduction to Macro/close up Photography

With Geoff Read (winner of the judges vote 2016)

This workshop is designed for a taste of the world of macro/close up photography

Morning

The session will be classroom based going through the settings and techniques required to obtain images of interesting and fascinating subjects. Practical work will follow with a variety of subjects and some surprises.

Included in the workshop will be a session learning how to photograph water droplets to achieve amazing patterns and shapes.

Afternoon

Late Afternoon

Weather permitting we will go outdoors using your newly acquired skills to obtain your own images in the stunning Rookesbury gardens.

We will end the day looking through your images on screen and seeing what you have achieved and running through any questions you may have.

You will need with your camera:

- Fully charged batteries and charger
- Empty CF/SD cards
- A macro lens is preferred if available. I have a Canon one if you wish to use.
- Tripod/monopod (optional)
- Flashgun(optional)

I will provide all props and bring my own equipment for you to try if you wish too.

It would be helpful for me to know what camera you will be bringing before the workshop.
