

Woodland Birds in Acrylics with Martin Rumary - £57pp

A one day course concentrating on painting our familiar British woodland birds, in their natural environment, using Acrylic Paints on Board.

Beginning with the preliminary sketches of the birds, from both memory and reference material, we will discuss capturing a sense of movement and progress through depicting associated surroundings such as leaves, grass, wood ect.

We will also be looking at creating depth in the work and the importance of the overall composition whilst working towards completion of the final painting and discussing framing ideas.

About your Tutor:

Martin has been painting British birds from a very early age, since his parents moved from London to the Mendip hills in the heart of the Somerset countryside.

He has won many awards for his work and has been represented in many galleries around the country, as well as regularly being invited to be an artist in residence at Nature in Art
